

The White Knight™ Microbial Inoculator/Generator

We do in the septic tank what nature does in the woods!

In nature, oxygen-using (aerobic) bacteria in the soil consume non-living organic material. This is the process nature uses to “recycle” wastes. We install the White Knight™ Microbial Inoculator/Generator in the septic tank to create an oxygen rich environment and cultivate an extensive colony of these same soil bacteria.

The result is nearly complete consumption of the organic materials entering the septic tank. At the same time, the bacteria are carried into the leach where they consume the organic material that has accumulated in the underlying soil. The leach field regains and/or maintains its capacity to deliver effluent to the soil for purification, so the natural waste water flow cycle is restored.

The White Knight™ advantage

Comparison Chart	White Knight™ Microbial Inoculator/Generator	New Septic System and leach field replacement
System Installation costs	Thousands of $$$ less	High
Disruption to existing landscape	Very Minimal	High
Protection of the environment	Environmentally safe	Low
Tank Pumping intervals	Significantly reduced	Every 1-2 years
Conservation of natural resources	High	Low
System warranty	Limited lifetime with 100% component replacement	Usually no guarantees with installation

The White Knight Microbial Inoculator/Generator can be used to:

- Protect leach fields from ever biologically failing
- Improve the function of marginally operating leach fields
- Restore the function of totally failed leach fields
- Improve the quality of effluent returning to the soil and ground water
- Reduce the amount of nitrate moving into the environment
- Reduce the size of the leach field required for new building construction
- Expand the size of existing structures without expanding the leach field
